This International Women's Week,
Kotak General Insurance celebrates Women Drivers with #SheDrivesWithPride
*Offers special premium rates for women policyholders

Mumbai, 8th March, 2021: Celebrating International Women's Week and building on the success of its earlier initiative #DriveLikeALady, Kotak Mahindra General Insurance Company Limited (Kotak General Insurance) today announced the launch of its social campaign, #SheDrivesWithPride aimed to end prejudice against women drivers.

In March 2019, Kotak General Insurance had launched #DriveLikeALady campaign on social media based on its insurance claim experience and seeing a marked difference between the driving habits of its male and female policyholders. The company has leveraged this data to talk about contemporary Indian women who are driving a discernible positive change in road safety while fighting deep rooted societal biases. The new campaign builds on #DriveLikeALady campaign, which went on to earn multiple accolades in national as well as international forum.

Mahesh Balasubramanian, MD & CEO, Kotak General Insurance, said, "We stand committed to our resolve of fighting prejudice faced by women drivers. While our last campaign #DriveLikeALady" centred around how women drivers tend to be safer based on claims data, #SheDrivesWithPride" is based on data showing that despite the increase in number of women drivers on the road, our attitude or beliefs haven't changed much. To drive home the core message of our campaign, we ran a unique social experiment by doing a live poll thereby leveraging the engaging formats social media platforms have to offer. The responses from the poll feed into our main story, which is reflective of what people think.

The data driven campaign has been conceptualized and executed by Fulcro, a Mumbai based digital agency. Link to FB Page: <https://www.facebook.com/kotakgeneral>; Link to Twitter Handle: @KotakGeneral

Kotak General Insurance continues to support women drivers by offering special premium rates for its female policyholders as part of its private car insurance offering.
